A.M. McGregor Enters into Strategic Partnership with Senior Independence

Columbus – The A.M. McGregor Group has entered into a strategic partnership with Ohio-based Senior Independence to develop home and community based services for older adults in the Cuyahoga county area.

The partnership will allow the A.M. McGregor Group to complement its existing offerings of senior housing, assisted living and health care with additional services designed to meet the needs of older adults who wish to live at home. “We will continue to operate quality senior living and long term care. We must also look beyond our walls and reach out to seniors in the greater community who wish to remain at home,” said A. M. McGregor President and CEO Rob Hilton. The home and community based services will be owned and operated by The A.M. McGregor Group with ongoing education, best practices and clinical expertise services from Senior Independence.

“We are pleased to form a strategic partnership with Senior Independence for the home and community based services portion of our program,” said Rob Hilton. “For more than a century, we have worked to meet the changing needs of older adults in our community. This partnership will be an important step forward in enabling seniors to age in place in their homes and communities and enjoy their independence.”

“This partnership is ideal. Our mission is to increase the capacity of families, communities and organizations to care for seniors at home. By working with McGregor, we can expand services to seniors in the Cleveland area, and enhance the presence of Senior Independence across the Northern Ohio region,” Nancy Koury King, DM, President of Senior Independence said. “We will serve more people in more ways as we work with McGregor in meeting the changing needs of seniors in the area.”
